

THE ADAIR COUNTY NEWS.

VOLUME 3.

COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1900.

NUMBER 44.

POSTOFFICE DIRECTORY.

J. M. Russell, Postmaster.
Office hours, week days, 7:00 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.

COURT DIRECTORY.

Courier Courts—Three sessions a year—Third Monday in January, third Monday in May and third Monday in September.
Circuit Judge—Rev. T. P. Jones
Court Clerk—W. H. Aaron
Chancellor—W. H. W. Aaron
Sheriff—J. W. Hurt
Clerk—E. W. Coffey

Courier Courts—First Monday in each month.
Judge—J. W. Butler
County Attorney—Jas. Grant Jr.
Prosecuting Attorney—J. W. Jones
Assessor—G. A. Bradshaw
Tax Collector—J. W. Jones
School Sept.—W. D. Jones
Coroner—Leonard Fletcher

Court Courts—Regular court, second Monday in each month.
Judge—J. W. Atkins
Coroner—George Montgomery

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

PREACHERES.

Baptist Church—Rev. T. P. Wilson, pastor; Services first Sunday in each month. Sabbath-school at 9 a. m. every Sabbath. Prayer meeting every Wednesday night.

METHODIST.

Methodist Church—Rev. J. L. Kilgore, pastor. Services first Sunday in each month. Sabbath-school every Sabbath at 9 a. m. Prayer meeting Thursday night.

CHRISTIAN.

Campbell's Christian Church—Rev. W. E. Barnett, pastor. Services first Sunday in each month. Sabbath-school every Sabbath at 9 a. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday night.

LODGES.

MASONIC.
Columbia Lodge, No. 9, and A. M.—Regular meetings third Tuesday in each month, daylight or before sunset, full moon in each month. G. A. Keen, W. M. T. R. Stevens, Secy.

COLUMBIA CHAPTER, R. A. M., No. 7, meets first Monday night in each month. T. O. Russell, H. P. T. E. Stiles, Secretary.

BUSINESS CARDS.

Conover Hotel.

JOHN N. CONOVER, Proprietor.

Columbia, - Kentucky.

HIS Hotel is one of the best in this section of the State. It is a large brick containing twenty-eight rooms, eleven parlors, a hundred sample rooms, and the table is supplied with the best provisions the country affords. Rates very reasonable.

Hancock Hotel.

BURKSVILLE STREET.

Columbia, Ky.

JUNIUS HANCOCK, Prop.

The above Hotel has been re-built, repainted, and is now ready for the comfortable accommodation of guests. Table supplied with the best market afford. Prices reasonable. Food sample room. Feed stable ad-hed.

COMMERCIAL - HOTEL.

JAMESTOWN, KY.,

HOLT & VAUGHAN, Proprietors.

This above named hotel was recently opened and has a fine run of business. It is a two story building and the table is supplied at all times with the best food. The proprietors are attentive and very polite to their guests. It is convenient to the business house. Please call and make your arrangements.

Lebanon Steam Laundry

LEBANON, KY.

A thoroughly equipped modern laundry plant, conducted by experienced workmen, and doing as high grade work as can be turned out anywhere in the country. Patronize a home institution. Work of Adair, Russell, Taylor and Green solicited.

W. R. JOHNSTON & CO., PRO.

REED & MILLER, Agents,

Columbia, - Kentucky.

To prevent La Grippe take a dose or two of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Cough.

Ladies Favorite.—Morley's Little Liver Pills for "Bilious People" are the ladies favorite, because they are small, easily taken, and do their work quickly, but effectively. One a dose. Sold by

M'KIMLEY TOTALLY UNFIT

To Fill the Exalted Office of President.

Is Unmercifully Arraigned by Senator Wellington, Maryland, Who Declares for Democracy.

HE SAYS BRYAN IS SURE OF ELECTION.

"I am unalterably opposed to the election of President McKinley. Bryan is a better man in every way than McKinley and I regard his election as essential to the preservation of the republic."

This is the gist of Senator George L. Wellington's position in the pending Presidential campaign. I called upon the Senator at his office in the Citizens' National Bank this morning, and in the course of an extended interview I became convinced that he is terribly earnest. He would not make a definite statement as to the party he would take in the campaign, but it is easy to see that he intends to aid Bryan. In fact, when asked the direct question if he did not intend to do so, Senator Wellington did not deny it, but declared that just at present he is not prepared to describe the efforts he will make to encompass the defeat of President McKinley, as he is bitterly opposed, both on political and personal grounds. Here is the interview. He had with him reported almost verbatim:

"Senator, are you prepared to define your position in the Presidential campaign? I asked.

"Opposed to M'KIMLEY." The Senator replied, verily. "The best circumstantial evidence in the world proves it. Did not England open the official correspondence of our Consul at Pretoria? Had there been no secret understanding such a breach of international etiquette would have meant war—by God, Sir, war—right there. And then what was Macrum recalled and Hay's cub sent to Pretoria? Solely because of that secret understanding."

AGAINST PARIS TREATY.

"You said President McKinley had deceived and betrayed you in your personal relations. Do you object to explaining that statement?" I asked.

"Well, Senator, since you say you will not take the stump, and taking your position on McKinley into consideration, how would it do to make a guess that you will work quietly to bring about the election of Bryan?"

"Quietly? That's it. Just at present I am devoting myself to my private business, which has been sadly neglected for five years, and, so far as I know whatever I may do in politics will be done quietly. But I think my influence will be felt."

"No longer represents Republican principles; his defeat is necessary to the preservation of the Republic, and in addition he has betrayed and deceived me in my personal relations with him."

"You do not, then, endorse the Philadelphian platform?"

FATH OF OUR FATHERS.

"I do not."

"Because I regard it as a grave departure from the faith of our fathers. It is not the Republicanism of Lincoln, and an indifference of imminent policies foisted upon this country by Mr. McKinley."

"The 'vital principle' in this case, I suppose, the Democrats term 'imperialism,' I said."

"You are right," the Senator responded. "I am an anti-imperialist. I do not talk one way on the outside, and do talk one way and act another. I am not like old Hearst—able to appeal to the past and the future, and then stuffify myself. I see only the present. The past is gone, and the future can care for itself, but I'll help take care of the present."

"You believe, then, that there is a real threat of imperialism in the present policy of the Administration?"

"It most certainly do," was the Senator's emphatic response.

"Will you tell me wherein the Administration has so acted as to convince you of a danger to the republic from this source?" I asked.

THE SECRET ALLIANCE.

"It is convincing me of it every day by its conduct in the Philippines and by the workings of the secret alliance which exists with Great Britain."

take Bryan's word on any subject," he continued, than McKinley's."

"But does the fact that you are willing to take his word make Bryan a safer man than McKinley to hold the reins of government?" I ventured to ask.

THE ONE GREAT ISSUE.

"As I see it, yes," the Senator answered. "Bryan is absolutely right on the one great issue involved in this campaign, and, with the money question at rest for four years, he is longer, a better and safer man than McKinley. Even if the money question were not settled, Bryan is a man of too much sense to undertake to tamper with the currency."

"What is your opinion of the outcome of the campaign?"

"Why, Bryan is going to be elected."

"You really think so?" I asked.

"There is absolutely no doubt of it," Senator Wellington replied. "I know what I am talking about, for I know the forces that will come together to give McKinley the defeat he deserves."

"What are those forces?"

"I don't care to say at this time," the Senator answered, but I know what they are, and I tell you McKinley is as good as dead now. Bryan is certain to be our next President, and I shall be glad to see him elected."

"What do you think of the German vote in this campaign?"

In his reply Senator Wellington revealed the identity of the anti-McKinley forces to whom he had just referred. He told me that the forces that will come together to give McKinley the defeat he deserves are the forces that will come together to give Bryan the victory.

"What are those forces?"

"I don't care to say at this time," the Senator answered, but I know what they are, and I tell you McKinley is as good as dead now. Bryan is certain to be our next President, and I shall be glad to see him elected."

"What do you think of the German vote in this campaign?"

In his reply Senator Wellington revealed the identity of the anti-McKinley forces to whom he had just referred. He told me that the forces that will come together to give Bryan the victory are the forces that will come together to give McKinley the defeat he deserves.

"What are those forces?"

"I don't care to say at this time," the Senator answered, but I know what they are, and I tell you McKinley is as good as dead now. Bryan is certain to be our next President, and I shall be glad to see him elected."

"What do you think of the German vote in this campaign?"

In his reply Senator Wellington revealed the identity of the anti-McKinley forces to whom he had just referred. He told me that the forces that will come together to give Bryan the victory are the forces that will come together to give McKinley the defeat he deserves.

"What are those forces?"

"I don't care to say at this time," the Senator answered, but I know what they are, and I tell you McKinley is as good as dead now. Bryan is certain to be our next President, and I shall be glad to see him elected."

"What do you think of the German vote in this campaign?"

In his reply Senator Wellington revealed the identity of the anti-McKinley forces to whom he had just referred. He told me that the forces that will come together to give Bryan the victory are the forces that will come together to give McKinley the defeat he deserves.

"What are those forces?"

"I don't care to say at this time," the Senator answered, but I know what they are, and I tell you McKinley is as good as dead now. Bryan is certain to be our next President, and I shall be glad to see him elected."

"What do you think of the German vote in this campaign?"

In his reply Senator Wellington revealed the identity of the anti-McKinley forces to whom he had just referred. He told me that the forces that will come together to give Bryan the victory are the forces that will come together to give McKinley the defeat he deserves.

"What are those forces?"

"I don't care to say at this time," the Senator answered, but I know what they are, and I tell you McKinley is as good as dead now. Bryan is certain to be our next President, and I shall be glad to see him elected."

"What do you think of the German vote in this campaign?"

In his reply Senator Wellington revealed the identity of the anti-McKinley forces to whom he had just referred. He told me that the forces that will come together to give Bryan the victory are the forces that will come together to give McKinley the defeat he deserves.

"What are those forces?"

"I don't care to say at this time," the Senator answered, but I know what they are, and I tell you McKinley is as good as dead now. Bryan is certain to be our next President, and I shall be glad to see him elected."

"What do you think of the German vote in this campaign?"

In his reply Senator Wellington revealed the identity of the anti-McKinley forces to whom he had just referred. He told me that the forces that will come together to give Bryan the victory are the forces that will come together to give McKinley the defeat he deserves.

"What are those forces?"

"I don't care to say at this time," the Senator answered, but I know what they are, and I tell you McKinley is as good as dead now. Bryan is certain to be our next President, and I shall be glad to see him elected."

OBITUARY.

Milton Ewing Wilmore, son of James H. and Permelia Wilmore, was born in Adair county, Ky., December 2, 1884.

He professed religion at the age of eighteen, in a meeting held by Revs. Martin Baker, II, S. Parrish and W. E. Milam, at the old log church. He joined the Presbyterian Church at Columbia in which he lived a consistent and honored member and Elder until his death, February 4, 1900.

He was married to Miss Elizabeth McLarry April 22, 1892, who died June 20, 1902, leaving to his charge two sons and two daughters.

His second marriage was to Miss Patria A. Browning, January 25, 1872, who died November 16, 1892. His third marriage was to Miss Margaret E. Tresenriter October 10, 1895.

To him were born five children, four by his first wife and one by his second wife, three of whom are still living—one in Texas, one in Missouri and one in Kentucky.

As a Sunday-school man he had no superior, and, perhaps, no equal in the community in which he lived.

He was a Sunday-school and Sunday-school superintendent and was connected with the Sunday-school and Sunday-school organization at Union in 1855.

He is going to be quite a factor in the campaign this fall.

Ask the man who keeps the cigar store who he is going to vote for. He voted for McKinley last year.

He is going to vote for Bryan. He is going to buy his goods from the tobacco trust. He can't make any money. The trusts gobble the profits of the business.

The cigar stand is a great place for political discussion. Men congregate there and talk about men, conditions and issues. The keeper of the store is prepared. As soon as one lesson was recited he commenced the study of the next; not only its outline, but its main points was studied closely, and was never at a loss in his class.

He had made the Bible the one great text-book of his life, hence the readiness with which he could call up and apply almost any Scriptural or Scriptural incident likely to come up in a Sunday school lesson or Bible talk.

In a revival meeting he was ever ready with heart and hand to do what he could, whether at his church or some other church, and eternity alone will tell the effects of his life, and the reward of his labors in the circles in which he lived.

Prompt at church, at prayer-meeting, at Sunday-school, letting his light shine, makes us miss him the more, causing us to feel the loss of his association, his sympathy and his counsel the greater.

He died as he lived, a faithful servant of God. In his last moments he said:

"I don't feel that ecstasy of joy that some feel, but I am resting my all in God's hands. I don't know what better to do than to stand firm on the promise of God. I have been trying to serve him a long time, and I don't think I will forsake me now."

His funeral was preached by the writer from Num. 28:10, "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his."

Revs. T. F. Walton and E. W. Barnett assisted in the services.

W. H. C. SANDIDGE.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene county, Pa., is one of those. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by W. Cravens.

Mr. Pickle, arrested at Middleboro, must be a peach. In his valise were found a license to preach, teacher's certificate, four marriage certificates, deck of cards, bottle of whisky and a pistol. It is said he has seven wives. The women must have regarded him as a sweet Pickle, but by the time the law gets through with him, he will probably feel very much mixed.

To Cure La Grippe in Two Days Take Laxative Brasso Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on every box. 25 cents.

To Cure A Cold In One Day Take Laxative Brasso Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on every box. 25 cents.

To Cure Cough In One Day Take Laxative Brasso Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on every box. 25 cents.

To Cure Cough In One Day Take Laxative Brasso Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on every box. 25 cents.

To Cure Cough In One Day Take Laxative Brasso Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on every box. 25 cents.

To Cure Cough In One Day Take Laxative Brasso Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on every box. 25 cents.

To Cure Cough In One Day Take Laxative Brasso Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on every box. 25 cents.

Why Bryan Will Win.

What chance has Bryan of being elected? Naturally the editor of a Democratic newspaper will say that he has a great chance whether he really thinks so or not. That is his business.

Upon this occasion we will mention some classes of people whom we believe will vote for Bryan this year. If you doubt it, ask some of them.

Ask the drummer who he will vote for. A vast number of these have lost their positions because of combinations which permit of one traveling man doing the work of several.

McKinley prosperity has hurt them. He will tell you that he voted for McKinley four years ago. He is going to talk to him.

Can tell you why, too. The same brain and tongue that made him a good drummer makes him a good Bryan worker.

The drummer is not only going to vote for Bryan. He is going to work for him. He is scattered all through this big country and he will come pretty near equaling the McKinley campaign orators in number.

The drummer is going to be quite a factor in the campaign this fall.

Ask the man who keeps the cigar store who he is going to vote for. He voted for McKinley last year.

He is going to vote for Bryan. He is going to buy his goods from the tobacco trust. He can't make any money. The trusts gobble the profits of the business.

The cigar stand is a great place for political discussion. Men congregate there and talk about men, conditions and issues. The keeper of the store is prepared. As soon as one lesson was recited he commenced the study of the next; not only its outline, but its main points was studied closely, and was never at a loss in his class.

He had made the Bible the one great text-book of his life, hence the readiness with which he could call up and apply almost any Scriptural or Scriptural incident likely to come up in a Sunday school lesson or Bible talk.

In a revival meeting he was ever ready with heart and hand to do what he could, whether at his church or some other church, and eternity alone will tell the effects of his life, and the reward of his labors in the circles in which he lived.

He was a Sunday-school and Sunday-school superintendent and was connected with the Sunday-school and Sunday-school organization at Union in 1855.

He is going to be quite a factor in the campaign this fall.

Ask the man who keeps the cigar store who he is going to vote for. He voted for McKinley last year.

He is going to vote for Bryan. He is going to buy his goods from the tobacco trust. He can't make any money. The trusts gobble the profits of the business.

The cigar stand is a great place for political discussion. Men congregate there and talk about men, conditions and issues. The keeper of the store is prepared. As soon as one lesson was recited he commenced the study of the next; not only its outline, but its main points was studied closely, and was never at a loss in his class.

He had made the Bible the one great text-book of his life, hence the readiness with which he could call up and apply almost any Scriptural or Scriptural incident likely to come up in a Sunday school lesson or Bible talk.

In a revival meeting he was ever ready with heart and hand to do what he could, whether at his church or some other church, and eternity alone will tell the effects of his life, and the reward of his labors in the circles in which he lived.

He was a Sunday-school and Sunday-school superintendent and was connected with the Sunday-school and Sunday-school organization at Union in 1855.

He is going to be quite a factor in the campaign this fall.

Ask the man who keeps the cigar store who he is going to vote for. He voted for McKinley last year.

He is going to vote for Bryan. He is going to buy his goods from the tobacco trust. He can't make any money. The trusts gobble the profits of the business.

The cigar stand is a great place for political discussion. Men congregate there and talk about men, conditions and issues. The keeper of the store is prepared. As soon as one lesson was recited he commenced the study of the next; not only its outline, but its main points was studied closely, and was never at a loss in his class.

He had made the Bible the one great text-book of his life, hence the readiness with which he could call up and apply almost any Scriptural or Scriptural incident likely to come up in a Sunday school lesson or Bible talk.

In a revival meeting he was ever ready with heart and hand to do what he could, whether at his church or some other church, and eternity alone will tell the effects of his life, and the reward of his labors in the circles in which he lived.

He was a Sunday-school and Sunday-school superintendent and was connected with the Sunday-school and Sunday-school organization at Union in 1855.

He is going to be quite a factor in the campaign this fall.

Ask the man who keeps the cigar store who he is going to vote for. He voted for McKinley last year.

He is going to vote for Bryan. He is going to buy his goods from the tobacco trust. He can't make any money. The trusts gobble the profits of the business.

The cigar stand is a great place for political discussion. Men congregate there and talk about men, conditions and issues. The keeper of the store is

J. W. COFFEY,

+ Blacksmiths +

AND

Woodworker,

Columbia, Ky.

I am surprised to do all kinds of work in my line, and if you need repairing done on your Wagons, Buggies or Farm Implements remember me I keep for sale wagon and buggy tires, rims, spokes and all kinds of bolts. My prices are right and satisfaction guaranteed. Give me a call.

Newly Furnished. American Plan $1.00 Per Day.

Nic. Bosler's Hotel

.....MEALS 25c.....

523 W. Market St. LOUISVILLE, KY

NIC. BOSLER, Mgr.

Wilmore Hotel.

</

PERSONAL MENTION.

Misses Susie and Florence Hall are visiting in Louisville.

Dr. James Trippett came over from Campbellsville Saturday.

Mr. R. F. Pauli was sick several days of last week.

Mr. D. M. Williams, Campbellsville, was here a few days ago.

Mr. Lee Robinson started for Western Kentucky Monday.

Messrs. J. D. Lowe & E. G. Atkins went to Liberty Monday.

Miss Jenine Van Pelt returned to her home in Louisville Monday.

Mr. G. R. Miller was at home last Saturday and Sunday.

Henry, a little son of Mr. W. H. Wilson, was quite sick last week.

Two of Mr. A. Hunn's children were quite sick last week.

Mrs. Dolly Bailey, Texas, is visiting in this country.

Mr. D. H. Butler is on a business trip to McLean county last week.

Mr. R. H. Price, who has been quite sick, is improving.

Mr. R. L. Durham, wife and baby, Greensburg, are visiting in Adair.

Eld. Wm. Wallace, of Lexington, is visiting in this country.

Mrs. F. V. Logan, of Pulaski county, is visiting in Adair.

Mr. C. H. Murrell, wife and daughter, Katie, are visiting in Jamestown.

Mr. S. M. Wolford has been quite sick for the past week.

Mrs. Joshua Murrell, Metcalfe county, was visiting in Adair last week.

Mr. D. G. Schooling, the Insurance agent, left Monday for Marion county.

Mrs. Maggie Dunn, Jeffersonville, Ind., is visiting the family of Mr. R. C. Eubanks.

Mrs. Lillian Dohoney, who has typhoid fever, is now improving and will be well in a few weeks.

Messrs. Fred Hancock and W. E. Bradshaw were at the Russell Springs Sunday.

Mr. Vance Gowdy and Miss Lois Gowdy, Campbellsville, spent Saturday with Miss Sallie Rey Marcum.

Mrs. Lois Lovett, who has been living at Horse Cave, reached Columbia Saturday night.

Mr. W. F. Hadley and Mrs. Alice Hadley and children, of Missouri, are visiting relatives near Montpelier.

Mrs. J. T. Jones and Mrs. J. P. Clayton, Crooksville, were visiting relatives in the county last week.

Mr. W. E. Kunkle and Miss Core Kannard were in town Monday evening for the Russell Springs Fair.

Judge Horace E. Baker of Campbellsville, who was born and reared in Columbia, is lying in a very critical condition.

Miss Ethel Montgomery, of Louisville, who spent two months with her uncle, Mr. J. F. Montgomery, returned home Saturday.

Misses Kittie and Core Bower, Jeffersonville, Ind., who have been visiting the family of Mr. E. G. Atkins, returned home today.

Miss Anna Anna returned from the Russell Springs Fair last Saturday night. She reports what she did not see was not on the program.

Mr. Bob Miller, son of Mrs. Lou Miller, this city, is very sick at the Eckert Hotel, Louisville. Mrs. Miller received a dispatch Monday night, telling her to come.

Mr. W. A. Coffey and wife, Mr. T. A. Murrell and wife, Mrs. Nellie Coffey, Mary and Eddie, Estella Simplicy, Birdie Powell, Nettie and Matilda Lorenz, Pilarine, Gertrude and Gladys Pauline, Messers. C. S. Grady, W. F. Hancock, M. R. Berry and R. S. Scyphry are camping at Sulphur Spring in Cumberland county for the next five days.

LOCAL JOTTINGS.

Adair County Teachers' Institute will begin next Monday.

The Adair County News and Twice-a-week Courier Journal, $1.25 per year.

I have an International Dictionary which I will sell cheap. L. L. Murrell.

For Sale—Two thoroughbred Poland China pigs. E. G. Atkins.

I have four good milk cows for sale, three with calves. J. R. Tutt, Milltown, Ky.

Notice.
We have a lot of good iron hoop rails for sale. Willis Bros.

My accounts are due, so come and settle. I need the money.

Mrs. Sallie Bradshaw.

The ice cream supper given last Friday night by Misses Sallie and Augustus Montgomery was well patronized.

A great many people of Adair county are attending the Russell Springs Fair this week.

Read the advertisement of Mr. Geo. Coffey in another column. Headwaters dies a peaceful death.

FOUR SALE—200 acres of land well timbered and watered. Price $400.

James R. Morrison, Milltown, Ky.

A typographical error made us say last week that the school per capita was $6.40. The statement should have been $2.40.

Lafayette Cundiff was held over in the sum of $300, charged with robbing J. B. Watson's store of twenty-five dollars in cash.

When you visit Louisville, stop at the New Phoenix Hotel. First-class fare and well located, corner of 7th and Market Streets.

Every man should protect his family against death. Take out a life policy in the Connecticut Mutual. See J. E. Murrell.

FOR SALE—I have ten head of yearling steers to sell—good ones. L. V. Turner, Montpelier, Ky.

Several couples spent a delightful time boat riding last Saturday night. The river was calm and the air balmy. The boys who managed the canes were not particularly stuck on their assignments, but they did not complain, knowing that they were getting the same amount of sailing as those more comfortably situated.

Hale, Padlock, Richards & Voices of Russell county, have been doing some excellent work with their threshing machine in this country. They have a fine machine and put up their work to a vint that commands them to the farmers who want to push work. Up to date they have threshed 11,000 bushels and have yet three weeks work.

Mr. Spivey Bothchill, of Louisville, has made such a favorable impression upon the business men of Columbia and the community generally, was called home last Saturday on account of the death of his aged father. His many dear friends at this place felt for him and in his sore bereavement had their deepest sympathy.

They Are Very Pleasant.
Smokers attention. He has come at last. The Never Down, Log Run and the like are all good. The tobacco leaves and rotten stock bad flavor. If you don't believe it, try one and you will like it. Ask your merchant for it. Manufactured by S. L. Howchen, Somerton, Ky.

Several threshers were in operation within the neighborhood of Columbia last week. The house last Saturday on account of the death of his aged father. His many dear friends at this place felt for him and in his sore bereavement had their deepest sympathy.

The closing of the Liberty circuit court gives Judge Jones a vacation until the third Monday in September, when court at this place will convene.

Mr. U. L. Taylor informs us that there are from five to twenty cases of small-pox in the neighborhood of Hinsdale. It is among the colored population.

Jodie Burbridge, Lucien Burbridge, Will Williams, Charlie Hunter, Spencer Cheatham, all colors, and Frank Martin, white, were tried and acquitted Saturday for "crap shooting."

Mary Lee Rudd, one year and ten months old, the daughter of Mr. R. L. Rudd of Texas, died of the bird of nest last month. Mr. Rudd formerly lived at Grady county, this country.

We made an effort to have all the papers we could find locally represented in the News this week. A few failed to respond, but we are very thankful for the reports sent in.

The arrangement for the bridge will be completed and the structure will be put up during this month. The Plum Point bridge will be built during the month of September.

An old colored woman, named Wheeler, who has been wandering around town, for several weeks, adjudged to be insane, was carried to a anchorage by Mr. Claude Hurt Monday.

Special Notice.

My accounts are due July 1st. Please call and pay your account or note without further notice. I need D. H. Butler.

FOR SALE—My farm, 4½ miles from Columbia near the Greenbush road, consisting of 165 acres; plenty of water; about 30 acres of good timber. A splendid place. Cheap for cash. C. S. Moore.

The King Mantel Company, 22 West Jefferson St., Louisville, sell the best and cheapest mantels in the city. They are made of solid wood and are very durable. They are tall and slender, having a number of extra space shelves for books, etc. The Liberty Band is on hand and is rendering fine music. A great deal of stock is on hand and many new pieces will arrive. Adair county people there is large numbers, enjoying the show.

Berkshire Boars For Sale.

Audair Adair is the finest pig ever raised in Adair county and can be bought at Willow Cabin, the Trabue farm. Hinsdale is Sovereign Headlight, the 5, No. 50,730 and his dam is Brookdale, No. 50,731. They are both full blooded registered Berkshires owned by Caldwell Norton, Louisville, Ky. Sovereign Headlight's sire, Headlight Jr., has taken first in the state for many years and is the best of his breed.

His owner claims that he is the best boar in the world. He weighed 430 pounds at eleven months old. At the same place there are three young Berkshire boars for sale. Come and see them.

The soothsaying healing properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cure, have made it a great favorite with the people everywhere. For sale by M. Cravens.

The Campbellsville colored nine came out victorious at this place Saturday. At the close of the ninth inning the score tied, 22, 22. Two more innings were played resulting in Campbellsville gaining three scores. The colored boys here will probably play a return game.

Dola Blair was before Judge Butler, last Monday, charged with shooting her husband, Mr. John Coffey, in the back. Great many witnesses were introduced by both sides, but the court thought the testimony sufficient to hold Mr. Blair, and an order was made accordingly.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mr. Geo. Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Life Pills. These quickly cured her, and she writes, this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of Pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of its power to cure all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Quack! Quack! Trill, bottles free at T. F. Faull's drug store.

Paid list since last issue: W. G. Rains, N. M. Baldwin, G. H. Davenport, W. H. Stebbins, C. H. Barnes, O. Wilkerson, T. P. Brown, W. H. Wilkerson, V. G. Wesley, J. B. Brown, Gen. Jeter, B. Lee, B. B. Parton, S. B. Sharp, G. W. Heard, J. J. Merkle, T. P. Gaines, J. R. Hindman, F. G. Willis, R. L. Rudd.

Several couples spent a delightful time boat riding last Saturday night. The river was calm and the air balmy. The boys who managed the canes were not particularly stuck on their assignments, but they did not complain, knowing that they were getting the same amount of sailing as those more comfortably situated.

Hale, Padlock, Richards & Voices of Russell county, have been doing some excellent work with their threshing machine in this country. They have a fine machine and put up their work to a vint that commands them to the farmers who want to push work. Up to date they have threshed 11,000 bushels and have yet three weeks work.

Mr. Spivey Bothchill, of Louisville, has made such a favorable impression upon the business men of Columbia and the community generally, was called home last Saturday on account of the death of his aged father. His many dear friends at this place felt for him and in his sore bereavement had their deepest sympathy.

They Are Very Pleasant.
Smokers attention. He has come at last. The Never Down, Log Run and the like are all good. The tobacco leaves and rotten stock bad flavor. If you don't believe it, try one and you will like it. Ask your merchant for it. Manufactured by S. L. Howchen, Somerton, Ky.

Several threshers were in operation within the neighborhood of Columbia last week. The house last Saturday on account of the death of his aged father. His many dear friends at this place felt for him and in his sore bereavement had their deepest sympathy.

Mr. Spivey Bothchill, of Louisville, has made such a favorable impression upon the business men of Columbia and the community generally, was called home last Saturday on account of the death of his aged father. His many dear friends at this place felt for him and in his sore bereavement had their deepest sympathy.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

It is said by some that corn at this place gets a good price.

There is some talk of building a bridge from this place to Jamestown, and Horseshoe Bottom will surrender liberally to the enterprise. Jamestown should bear itself. A long pull and a strong foundation will be the road.

Russell County Correspondence.

FROM ALL POINTS.

JAMESTOWN.

A light rain fell here Sunday night.

Mr. L. F. Scholl, who has been clerking on a boat plying between Burkville and Burriside, is now at home.

Mr. C. H. Murrell, wife and daughter, Miss Katie, Columbia, are visiting the family of Mr. G. F. Jones.

Mr. W. M. Greerer is one of our leading merchants. A few months ago he started in business with about $100. He now has a splendid stock and is getting his share of many.

The school at this place is progressing nicely, and with the advent of cooler weather, it will greatly increase.

Judge Jos. E. Hay is quite feeble these days, but he is still here.

Mr. W. S. Knight, who is in the revenue service, went to Monroe county last week.

Jamesstown will be quieter than usual this week, the Fair at the Springs attracting the attention of her citizens.

The business of the new drug-store recently established at this place is increasing. Mr. Jones is a very popular gentleman, and is often a great favorite.

It is reported here that Mr. J. C. Acree, the postmaster at Kimble, has been superseded by F. L. Wilson.

WESLEY.

It is only occasionally that I see a letter in the News from this place, and being desirous of seeing it represented, I enclose it.

The health of this community is excellent.

I learned that the local brandy distilleries will be started soon, but one is close to town. It would be better for the brandy distilleries to be located in the city, where it will be more accessible.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

It is reported here that the new post office will be opened in the fall, but the post office will be moved to the new building.

and Mr. Johnson is out many dollars for his kindness. He is yet able to sell goods and it is hoped that he may live to build up his lost gains.

Dr. Jo Scholl is doing some riding, but there is but little sickness. Last year this country was infected with small-pox, and there were deaths. I understand the county court paid out seven or eight hundred dollars for Doctors and nurses to wait upon the sick. It is hoped that we may never go through another such siege.

KENDALL.

On the beautiful Cumberland, situated five miles above Cresselboro, is the thriving town of Kendall. Lester & Son, who own the mill there, are doing a splendid business.

Mr. Benji Daniels, who is engaged in selling goods here in partnership with his son and nephew, is a leading merchant in this country.

Mr. W. H. Shepherd is a terror to evil doers, and is ready to issue warrants for disturbers of the peace.

SEWELTON.

Our little town out four miles from Jamestown. It is not the second or even the third village in population in the state, but it is small in size, but the citizens are substantial and industrious, and are contented with habitation.

A good school is in progress, and a church building is convenient, and almost every Sunday we are given an opportunity to hear a good sermon.

CREELBORO.

Last year there were several Democrats in this place and vicinity who opposed Mr. Goebel with a vim, but all are for Governor Beckham in this contest. The democrats who opposed the ticket were honestly mistaken and all true party men are glad they are now on the side of the right.

The meetings of this place are having a fairly good trade. They are closing out their summer goods, preparing for the Fall trade.

CRESSELBORO.

A great many staves were gotten out in this neighborhood, but the bottom has been knocked out of the business by fire.

W. T. Murrell, who has served the community several terms as surveyor, is thinking of quitting the business and will likely be succeeded in this line by his son, who recently attended college at Bowling Green.

A great many staves were shipped from this landing during last winter, but in consequence of the fall in prices, many thousands yet remain upon the market at this time.

The business men of this place do not make large pretensions, but they are perfectly satisfied with their trade, the community is morally and religiously inclined. The people go to church and pray their debts.

Corn will be very cheap on the river this Fall. The prospects are that the largest crop for many years will be sold.

A recent arrival here is a young lady, who has been sick for some months, is improving, and her friends hope to see her strong again at an early day.

D. A. V. Neathery is our local physician, but he is not particularly busy, as there are no serious cases of sickness in our midst.

It is only five miles from here to the Springs, and many of our citizens will attend the Fair this week.

JAREZ.

Time brings about many changes. A few years ago Mr. John Johnson, the merchant at this place, was the principal buyer to Russell county.

He also kept an open house and there was scarcely a night that he did not have from one to three drunks in his house, and he was a drunkard himself.

He is now a respectable citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

He is a good citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

He is a good citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

He is a good citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

He is a good citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

He is a good citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

He is a good citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

He is a good citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

He is a good citizen, and his house is a quiet place.

FONT HILL.

Notwithstanding July and August are unusually dull months, the merchants of this place are not complaining.

They carry good stocks of goods, drawing trade from the surrounding country.

We are high and dry, yet our crops are very good.

No serious sickness in this immediate vicinity.

Some cattle have changed hands, at fair prices, recently.

CHINESE PROBLEM.

Mr. Bryan's Views Toward This All Absorbing Question.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Mr. Bryan's attitude towards the Chinese problem declared in his recent interview, is heartily commended by Democrats in this city. Coupled with his Philippine policy it would supply us with all the advantages of an eastern base and would enable us to send thirty thousand men, if necessary, from Manila, to save Minister Conger and those with him. As it is Democrats in this city fiercely resent the efforts of the Republican press to throw upon their party the responsibility for the inability of the administration to spare more troops from Manila for China. For instance, the Philadelphia Press, which is owned by Postmaster-General Smith and therefore speaks by the card, says: "The troops cannot go because resistance to lawful authority in the Philippines is fostered by Bryan and Bryanism, by the Kansas City platform and by such newspapers as urge withdrawal from the Philippines. This aid, comfort and countenance keeps the Filipinos in the field. It maintains resistance. It prevents pacification."

More interesting in passing that this statement is a most remarkable commentary on the recent official assertions of the administration that the war in the Philippines is practically over, violent exception is taken to the assertion that the continuance of the "rebellion" is due to the Democrats. As a matter of fact, it is declared to be due to President McKinley who treacherously violated the pledges of his army officers to give independence to our quondam Filipino allies, and who was carried away by the lust of imperial rule to attempt to impose his rule on a people who had been fighting for their liberty for more than three centuries and who had won it in fair fight against Spain.

Furthermore, it is said, if it had not been for the Filipinos "rebellion" the United States army would now probably number only some 30,000 men—its strength before the Spanish war—and would certainly not exceed 65,000. The bill authorizing the present force would never have passed Congress had it not been for the almost tearful pleadings of the President for men to support the honor of the flag, which his greed had imperiled in the Philippines.

The present troubles, it is said, have at least served to show the country something of the truth about the Philippine situation which the administration has been so sedulously concealing. Major General MacArthur has sent from Manila a strong protest against withdrawing any troops at all from the Philippines for service in China, and instead has asked for reinforcements. He has urgently represented to Secretary Root that under the system of garrisons adopted it is impossible to redistribute his force when regiments are withdrawn so as to properly patrol the districts from which they have been taken. Secretary Root thoroughly appreciates General MacArthur's views, but the urgency of the situation in China is such that he is compelled to detail regiments to Taku.

Commenting on this, Senator Wellington, (Republican) of Maryland, says: "If the situation in the Philippines is as favorable as the administration would have us believe, there is no reason why twelve or fifteen thousand men could not be sent from there to China. I think that would be America's fair quota of the international force for the relief of Pekin, and beyond the protection of American life and property this country has no business to interfere in the affairs of the Chinese Empire. The European powers have sowed the wind and are now reaping the whirlwind. They have been looking for trouble in China for a long time, and now they have it. The fire they have kindled is a hot one, and this government should look well to it that the American troops are not used as a cat's paw for the pulling out of European chestnuts."

Through reports and private letters reaching the officials here it is becoming manifest that the suppression of the Filipino insurrection is really a work of years. This certainly is the opinion of almost every army officer in the Philippines.

Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Bedford Street Methodist church at Cumberland, Md., says: "It affords me much pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Cocco, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. I have used it and know others who have done so. I have never known it to fail. It is a sure cure when taken in time." For sale by M. Cravens.

OBITUARY.

On Friday evening, July 27, the angel of death entered our community and claimed for its victim one of our oldest and best beloved members—Mrs. Sally Bryant. She was born May 12, 1816. She was married to David Bryant about 08 years ago and to them were born twelve children, all of whom are living but one. She early in life confessed her Savior and united with the Baptist Church, and the religion she embraced then was a comfort in old age. Often I watched by her bedside and witnessed the patient and perfect resignation to her Master's will, did we think how sweet it was to be a Christian. She was a good mother and grandmother, always giving good advice. She was dearly loved by her children and her cheerful voice will be missed and her deeds of kindness long remembered by every one in the community.

The funeral services were conducted by Revs. Breeding and Murrell after which the remains were interred in the family burying ground to await the resurrection of the just.

On Sunday morning, August 5, the grim reaper death, visited the home of Mr. Jasper Bryant and took from him his beloved wife. She had been afflicted along time, but bore her sufferings with Christian fortitude. A short time before the end came, she called her children to her bedside and told them to live right and meet her in heaven. She said that she was only waiting; that she had been living close to God, and was willing and ready to meet him. She leaves a large family of children, all grown, a husband and a host of relatives to mourn her loss.

This entire community joins in sympathy for the bereaved ones,

SALLY BRYANT,

An Indian Romance.

An impressive ceremony was observed at the little village of Peoria, Miami county, Ind., the other day in the unveiling of the monument to mark the resting place of Frances Slocum.

The story of Frances Slocum dates back to a period in the revolutionary war. When she was five years old she lived with her parents near the Wilkesburg, Pa., fort. One night the log cabin in which they lived was besieged by Indians. The father and brother were massacred by the savages, but the mother and children spared.

Frances was taken West with the Indians, and her whereabouts were in ignorance of her whereabouts. The mother did not abandon hope.

She said her soul constantly complained with that of her lost child, and she often said that she knew by intuition that Frances was alive and that she would again see her. Finally, the family heard of a white woman who was living with a tribe of Indians in Western Pennsylvania. The brothers left the mother and, taking guns and provisions, began their long tramp through a trackless forest the point they had been directed. Their efforts were rewarded, for, on arriving at the village, they found their sister, now grown to nearly womanhood.

She finally consented, after much deliberation, to accompany her brothers home. The Indians were loth to give her up, but on her promise to return to them they acquiesced to her plans. Mrs. Slocum cherished her with a mother's tenderness, but the wild flower from the forest pined for a life of freedom. At last Frances returned to the Indians who had reared her.

In 1837, 50 years after her capture, her relatives again heard from her. She was living near Logansport, Ind. Her brother, Joseph Slocum, and a sister journeyed from Pennsylvania to visit her. Soon after the death of her foster parents her hand was sought in marriage by a young chief of the tribe, and she was happy in her domestic relations. Her first husband died, and she again married, taking for a husband one of the Miami tribe.

She died in 1866, and was buried in what is now the village of Miami, with considerable pomp, for she was regarded as the queen of the tribe and a woman of much more than passing consequence.

Cincinnati people are grumbling on account of their small increase in population. They lay it on the census takers.

A House That Has A History.

On the Salt River turnpike, twenty miles from Bardstown, at Valley Station, is an old house that has quite an interesting history. It was built in the year 1803, many years before there was any stage coach through part of the country. Some years later, however, the residents of that section banded together and built a plank road from Louisville to what is now known as West Point. The old Louisville and Nashville turnpike was then built and the stage line started between those two cities. The old log house was then turned into a tavern and kept by a man named George Moore. The stage coach stopped there and changed horses. Capt. Camy kept a stage tavern there for a number of years. An old man named Simcoe ran a blacksmith shop directly across the road and did a prosperous business. The old blacksmith shop, like the house, is still standing, only in a much more dilapidated condition, for the progress of civilization has covered up the oil logs of houses with a covering of weatherboards. Otherwise it stands to-day as I left it many years ago with the exception that the old clapboard roof has given way to tin. In the 40's two men named Lovett and Jones held up the stage coach at the tavern, and, after killing the driver, the robbed the stage, getting away with $800 in gold, which was on its way to Nashville with its owner. The two highwaymen were pursued by a posse of farmers, and being hard pressed, buried the money on the farm that belonged to the owner of the tavern. They were caught and taken to Louisville, where they were hanged. On the scaffold, Lovett told when the money was buried, but although it had been searched for by thousands, it still remains undiscovered.—Bardstown Observer.

Jeff Davis' First Marriage.

No commonwealth in all the Southland, except perhaps Mississippi or Virginia, has so great a claim upon the memory of Jefferson Davis as Kentucky, says the Louisville Post. In this State he was born, in this State he was partially educated, and in this State, near Louisville, his first marriage took place under romantic circumstances.

Jefferson Davis was still almost an infant when his father moved from Todd county to Mississippi, but he returned to Kentucky a few years later to become a student at Old Transylvania College in Lexington. He was at college when President Monroe appointed him a cadet at West Point, and thereby changed the destiny of the young Southerner's career.

But the event in his life most closely associated with Kentucky History was the marriage of Mr. Davis, then a Lieutenant in the regular army, to the daughter of his Colonel, Zachariah Taylor, afterward President of the United States. For two years the young couple had been engaged at the frontier army post, where Col. Taylor's regiment was stationed. The father opposed the match. So the daughter came back to Kentucky to visit relatives in this county. Davis followed her, and a romantic elopement took place. Miss Taylor stole out of the house at night and met her lover. They slipped across the yard to the cabin of a devoted negro servant, on the "quarters". Here a servant met them, and here they were married, with only a faithful old "black mammy" and her husband as witnesses.

This cabin still stands on the old Taylor farm four miles from Louisville, on the Brownsboro road, which is a culmination of Washington street, on the same farm is the grave of President Taylor.

At Jefferson Davis' funeral a floral design, sent by the survivors of a Kentucky battery, had the place of honor at the head of the casket.

Ladies. If you want a beautiful complexion, a bright eye, a good appetite, an active liver, bowel regular as clock work, and vigorous healthy body, use Meryl's Liver and Kidney Cordial, the great system rennovator. It cures all diseases to which women are subject such as weakness, debility, melancholy, nervous prostration etc.

A Wonderful Run—Moryl's Tastyless Chili Syrup has a wonderful run among Chili-Suffering people, because it is a prompt and effective cure for Chills, even in chronic cases that have resisted all other medicines. Sold only by W. M. Bell, Joppa, Ky.

The Democratic majority in the Seventh Congressional district is not big enough to be divided into two parts without endangering the chance of Democratic representation in Congress.

Women in the Fields.

Hundreds of women, both from town and country, are busily engaged in working on farms in Kentucky. There are not so many in the fields now, as the largest part of the harvesting is over, but the visitor will readily notice a surprisingly large number of the female sex at work in the fields. The women do it as a matter of choice, believing that they can do better on the farms than in an office or store.

The salary of the farm hand is $2 per day, which is fair in excess of the amount received by the women who clerk in stores and other places. The girl may work month in the harvest field, and earn as much in that length of time as she would in a whole summer in town. The girls who are working in the fields say that the work is not only easy, but healthy, and they feel much better than if they were cooped up under a roof all day.

The ride on the raspers and mowers, run the hay rake and shock wheat just the same as men, and if any thing some of the young women are quicker than the men. They do not wear bloomers, but go clothed in sunbonnets and thin dresses.

That Throbbing Headache.

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Lite Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick Nervous Headaches. They make blood and build up your health. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by T. E. Pauli druggists.

The sugar trust continues to mark up the price of sugar, and the consumer can do nothing but grin and bear it. The sugar king is protected by the tariff, the mother of trust, and seizes his fingers at the "great common people," as represented by the helpless consumers.

President McKinley's backbone still shows signs of weakness.

President McKinley's backbone still shows signs of weakness.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.

Mrs. George R. Sullivan, known as the "angle of the transports," is dying in New York.

The German voters show signs of revolting against the imperialistic ideas of the McKinley administration.

With the exception of trouble, the more the average man has the more he wants.

The Republican policy gives the rich man a big advantage over the poor one. It makes "the rich richer and the poor poorer." The poor man's opportunity is through the Democratic party, which gives an equal chance to all.</p